WEB DESIGN BOOK OF TRENDS

2013-2014

Marcin Treder, Robert Warych and Sebastian Witman

Preface

Design is the mirror of culture. Changes in society, technology and art are always reflected in the current state of design. Designers are stretching the limits of matter and self expression in the constant endeavor to build something meaningful. This effort cannot be separated from the world - the ultimate source of design inspiration.

Web Design is by far the most dynamic member of the design family. Trends come and go quickly. Each year, though, seems to be more mature and the progress is easily visible.

In recent years we went through a massive interest in skeuomorphism, a robust usage of large typography, vintage websites, hand written fonts, wood patterns, big headers, enormous footers, etc.

Today, design is different. Users are finally in the center of the process and you can literally feel this while browsing through the web. Content never mattered more. The adaptation of websites to different screen sizes has become a standard. The visual side of web design leans towards simplicity and balance. Web Design has never been more mature and sane.

And yes, though the madness of flash has died, we can still witness a lot of craziness. Designers are stretching the limits of technology with Web GL, very popular video backgrounds and twisted variations of web navigation. Without experiments, though, there would be no progress.

Progress couldn't exist without constant learning from each other as well. That's why we've decided to analyze thousands of websites to look for the trends that are repeated by the best designers. We've found very popular patterns in 2013 and emerging trends that most probably will be very popular in 2014.

We've singled out 11 trends and chosen 15 amazing examples for each one. Trend no. 12 was forced on designers by the EU - the infamous "cookie warnings" that flooded the web come with 4 examples (more would be simply boring).

We're hoping that this collection will fill you with inspiration and reflection on the direction web design is heading in.

Have fun!

1. THE ERA OF CONTENT

“Content is King” said Bill Gates back in 1996 and we waited quite a long time to fully feel the wisdom of these words in web design.

Today, finally, web design has become content-centric. Great text, amazing photographs and videos are the center of the modern website. The content rises above the layout and ornaments, or in other words - design creates the context for content.

Visitors don't come to our website to admire the layout and overall design. Visitors come to a website to achieve their goals. In most cases content is the road to the goal and it has to be clear.

The layout and design of the website attract visitors but it works only when you have relevant, useful and catchy content.

The 15 websites that we've chosen represent magnificent abilities to present content in an engaging way. Enjoy!

Coming Soon! TED-Ed Clubs...

Teachers and students, TED-Ed is currently seeking your interest in helping break ground on a new, annual TED-Ed Clubs program called TED-Ed Clubs.

What are the goals of the new TED-Ed Clubs program?
TED-Ed Clubs will encourage students to learn and practice the skills of short TED-Ed lessons in reading, writing, discussion, and presentation. The big idea is to have short TED-Ed lessons as the foundation for clubs that will meet weekly, regularly meeting them at TED-Ed clubs and the annual TED-Ed conference.

What are the driving forces behind TED-Ed Clubs?

The driving forces behind TED-Ed Clubs:
- The determination of teachers to achieve the students' potential.
- TED-Ed's commitment to providing a free, accessible platform through which students can learn and succeed and make progress toward their tremendous potential.

Who will be able to participate in the TED-Ed Clubs program?

Students in grades 3-12, and their teachers, parents, and administrators.

Additional questions?

Send us an e-mail to check out the TED-Ed Clubs!

True becomes Pet Drugs Online's trusty companion

We're a busy bunch here at True. So busy, in fact, that we've had time to share an exciting bit of new business - Pet Drugs Online.

Established and run by qualified vets, Pet Drugs Online supply prescription and nonprescription medications, accessories and food products directly to pet owners, providing a cost effective alternative to buying from independent vets' practices.

True will be handling all digital marketing activities, including paid search and affiliate marketing.

Tim Jones, True's Director, explains: "We're delighted to be working with Pet Drugs Online, with the growth in online marketing and digital strategy, it's great to be working with a company that's so forward-thinking and innovative. It's a market that's growing significantly. Pet Drugs have a strong proposition and we're excited to grow, and our approach is to continually improving and ensuring that Pet Drugs Online remains the authority.

This acquisition is exciting news. In the past three months we've added 10 new clients, and now we're up to 30% and

2. STORYTELLING

Storytelling is a powerful method of communication. In The Psychological Power of Storytelling, author Pamela Brown Rutledge says “when organizations, causes, brands or individuals identify and develop a core story, they create and display authentic meaning and purpose that others can believe, participate in, and share.” Storytelling is the road to efficient web communication and in 2013 designers seem to have finally grasped this concept.

The fact that storytelling is used not only by major brands to tell their stories, but also by non-profits to create an emotional response to important problems is all worth respect. After all persuasion is a big part of this design idea and nobody said it cannot be used for a good cause.

In 2013 designers mastered storytelling and I’m pretty sure it will be a major trend in 2014. This is the kind of fashion we’d love to be ruled by, isn’t it?

Brace yourself. You’ll be amazed by our 15 best storytelling websites on the next pages.

ONE CAMP.
HALF A MILLION
REFUGEES.
COUNTLESS STORIES.

The Dadaab refugee camp is the largest in the world. The people that live here have remarkable stories to tell — they just need a place to share them.

Dadaab is the world's largest refugee settlement. Situated in northern Kenya, the camp is home to 500,000 refugees. It is a temporary home to roughly half a million people. By some counts, a camp to temporary, but life does not stop here. Love, marriage, children, work, education, and more continue. Dadaab is home to over 10,000 Dadaab grandchildren — children of children who were born to refugees.

Following a long and difficult journey to the region in 2001, over 100,000 new refugees flooded into the camp. Recently, the region has seen a significant increase in conflict, which has led to a lack of aid workers and REDD investments. Despite the challenges, the Dadaab story continues to evolve.

Huh? What do browsers have to do with the Web being fun, safe or fast?

Internet users and other geeks like Agencies, design and developers

So I am ~NOT~ a techie

Every day, the Internet gets cooler. New technology means you can do awesome new things. Unfortunately, though, old browsers stop you from being able to try out these awesome new things.

MILLENNIUM PARTNERS • WEBSITE DESIGN & DEVELOPMENT

OVERVIEW

In America's last growing city, real estate developer Millennium Partners has turned to mediaBOOM to develop a website for their properties, rebranding their once dated, “brick and mortar” website.

mediaBOOM partnered with Roche Advertising to develop a new website for the company's website. The website's design is clean and modern, reflecting the company's image by prioritizing site visitors' needs. It also creates a connection, making your visit of the corporate site, which serves to drive audience.

TURN ANY HREF INTO A BUY BUTTON

Simply add Snipcart's HTML markup to any link/URL to make it buyable. The markup allows you to define your product's properties, including the price, the weight, the product name, the product page and anything you can think of. Once you've added this markup, you're already halfway there.

Buy bacon

A SINGLE LINE OF CODE AND YOU'RE DONE

Simply include Snipcart's script into your page and watch the magic happen. It will auto-magically add a checkout cart to your website and all of your buyable HREF's are now a gold mine. Try it out!

OFFER SHIPPING ESTIMATES IN THE BLINK OF AN EYE

During the checkout process, let your customers have a real estimate of shipping cost. Snipcart is integrated with the major shipping gateways (FedEx, UPS, etc) to give a real estimate of the shipping cost for each and every product you're selling.

IF YOU SELL, WE GET PAID. IF YOU DON'T, WE DON'T

We believe in honest pricing without hidden fees. If you sell, we're paid. If not? We're not. It is that easy! We charge a tiny percentage based on the sales you're making and money is deposited straight in your account, without any middle man.

We currently support Stripe and PayPal as payment gateways. Other gateways are coming and will be available soon. If you're interested in becoming a gateway partner, please contact us and we would love to have it supported. Just drop us a line and tell us about it!

We also offer special pricing for high volume sales. Drop us a line geeksnipcart.com

3. RESPONSIVE WEBSITES

Three years have passed since Ethan Marcotte coined the term “Responsive Web Design”. Once a revolutionary fresh idea, has in the year 2013 been transformed into a commodity. Responsive Web Design (RWD) is not a mere trend anymore, it's the reality of design expression.

I'd even go so far as to say that responsive web design will soon be as obvious as the separation of css and html for semantic reasons. It's not a question of whether to use it or not. It's a question of whether you can implement it properly.

We live in the post pc era. Mobile devices (and soon wearable computers) are growing in importance and today we have no other choice than to accept the fact that our websites need to provide an exceptional experience for different screen resolutions. In 2013 25% of the Internet traffic will come from Smartphones and Tablets. More than 25% of TVs sold in 2012 were Smart TVs with Internet connectivity. Only responsive web design will let you easily serve all these devices and their owners

I think I was on tour when I was reading one of the Feynman biographies. It was the red one or the blue one. And he made this statement that was so profound to me. It was that the Nobel Prize was the tournament of the year. And he said that the tournament I had won 35 out of 36 contests that I'd entered. And he said that the tournament was the tournament of the year. And he said that the tournament was the tournament of the year. In fact, winning isn't the word. I won it once. The rest of the time, you're just defending, and you get into this, like, turtle posture, you know? Where you're not doing. It warped the joy of what I loved to do because I was no longer doing it to create and have fun, and when it died out from under me, that was one of the most liberating things because I could create.

Responsive Images with Apropos

When Square's front-end engineering team building our Japanese website, we decided on that we needed to support a wide variety of devices, and that responsive design was the way to do that. (Who wants to support a completely separate "mobile site"?!) However, weren't we sure how we would serve every visitor the appropriate version of the gorgeous images on our talented photographers.

We were friends before we dated

At the time, we were having some major issues with how TweetMag was performing. We were using Readability's API, and decided to reach out and ask them if they might have any solutions to our performance problems.

They responded immediately. Within 24 hours we had solved a major technical problem that had plagued us for weeks.

That initial email led to them giving us some amazing support on our app, which led to a meeting at SXSW 2011, which led to more conversations, which leads us to this story.

End-To-End Online Channels That Win

From social and paid media, to the web, and of course CRM, we design and integrate every channel to work together in harmony and never waste a moment of time. But the real magic is that we can do this with the kind of creative and technical expertise that's hard to find. Then we plug it all into a smart, integrated system that can measure platforms and optimize our results off.

Say Hello to the New HubSpot

The world's #1 inbound marketing software platform just got better.

10,000+ businesses have already said hello!

HubSpot scales to any size.

The first screenshot shows the 'Inbound Marketing Software' section with a dark header and a teal footer containing a 'Request a Demo' button. The second screenshot shows the 'Tools to Attract Visitors' section with four icons: 'Blogging', 'Social Inbox', 'SEO', and 'Sites'. The third screenshot shows a testimonial box with the text 'Proven success with over 10,000 companies across a variety of industries.'

4. FLAT DESIGN

To say that “Flat design is extremely popular” is to say nothing. Flat design took over the design world. Microsoft (since 2010), Google and Apple (iOS7) adapted flat design to some extent and thousands of designers followed. 2013 was the year of flat design and 2014 won’t be any different. Flat design will stay with us for a long time.

Some designers, though, tend to see it as the beginning of the revolution:

“I believe that the flat design trend is a symptom of growing maturity in the field of web and interface design. This maturity applies to our designers – who are getting better at making interfaces that encourage interactivity and engagement – as well as to our users.” /Marci Ikeler, Designer & Founder of Little Arrows

“In essence, the flat era of design has narrowed the constraints but surprisingly expanded our approach towards design. Skeuomorphic design was not a trend, it was necessary for technology to be adopted. Now that it is, flat design is another necessary step that will facilitate the exploration of new design techniques that will take the industry to new heights” /Damian Madray

If they are right – there’s hardly a way back. The flat revolution will unify the digital world under a single rule. Whatever is different aesthetically will be judged as an oddity. While all the big brands are switching to flat, this view might be truer than ever.

Take a look at the 15 best flat design examples and be inspired!

WHO WE ARE

A new kind of VoIP carrier doing things differently.

Coloured Lines is a private and exciting breed of VoIP service that's challenging the way we've offered, delivered and experienced business telephony. The difference is that we're not afraid to try new things. We're not afraid to be the first to offer the latest technology, the latest features, the latest innovations. And that's what makes us different.

We've come up with a better way of doing things, and delivering a POTS and IP telephony solution for a range of businesses. Our mission is to offer a better way of doing things, and that's why we've created a business that's different to the rest.

TESTIMONIALS

Hear what our customers are saying

"Coloured Lines SIP phones have proven to be the easiest and cost effective solution for our business. We have been using them for over 2 years now and have had no issues with them. The support is excellent and their staff are extremely knowledgeable and helpful. I would recommend them to anyone who is looking for a reliable, fast and economical communication solution."

Karl Lettau
Project Manager Operations
REINSTEIN

"We had previously had attempted the move from ISDN to VoIP, however in both instances the results were far from satisfactory. Then along came Coloured Lines. They ensured the whole process was smooth and the transition was easy, as are all our other ISDN and ISATEL moves we make every month."

Umesh Campbell
Managing Director
INTERTECH

"We used the gear from Coloured Lines which have made the process smooth sailing. We now have phones at multiple offices around the world and have a number of business line softswitching lines. One of our clients in the USA has over 1000 lines and we have been able to support them all. We have for example when we call into USA customers or USA number appear and call quality is the same as in the USA. Having our PBX on the cloud has allowed us to focus on growing our business and not have to worry about how our telephone system will cope with the growth. We've also saved a lot of money."

5. PARALLAX SCROLLING

Parallax scrolling in web design (previously popular in cartoons and video games) has been around for quite some time. Do you remember RGA's website "Nike Better World"? It set the design world on fire. Suddenly everyone wanted to play with moving backgrounds and in 2013 the trend is simply obvious. Countless websites mesmerize users with a background illusion.

The parallax effect is the difference in the apparent position of an object viewed along different lines of sight. It leads to a certain illusion of 3D and creates an engaging environment for presenting content.

If it's not overused it's a powerful weapon in the hands of a crafty designer. You can experience that by watching the 15 websites that we've chosen.

I'M MAHÉDINE YAHIA, A 20 YEARS OLD FRENCH DESIGNER

I am currently enrolled in a Computer Engineering and Digital Communication Management Master's degree at the Paris Institute of Management. I am currently working as a Junior Art Director at the agency 'Bélier' in Paris. I am a designer and life. The design is much more than a passion for me, it is a natural need to create, imagine, design, invent, and express. I have always been interested in the arts, especially in the field of cinema. I grew up when I was younger and went back to an expression of letters and characters in a more classical way. In addition, I am a great fan of the 80s and 90s, and I am a fan of the type of music and type of song that I grew up with. I am an escape. I am driven by an infinite desire that allows me to grow and seek perfection, both in regard to the substance and the form for any project. I remain at your disposal for any kind of freelance contact.

Biography

ANDREAS KLEIBERG

My name is Andreas Kleiberg. I'm an Oslo based photographer. Born in Bergen 1985, & growing up in Stavanger. I was educated at Norsk Fotofagskole (The Norwegian School of Photography).

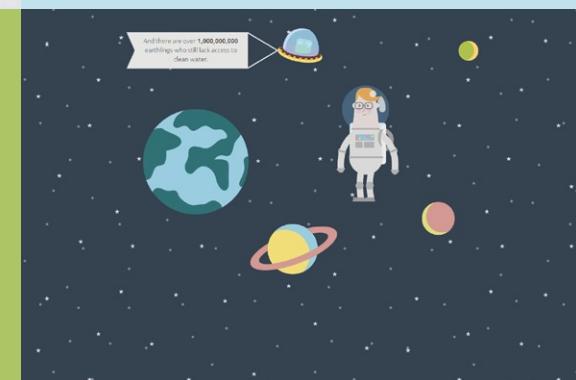

I have a new passion for directing films & feel the gap between still photography & movies is closing. Now my ideas & passion have two different formats to evolve in!

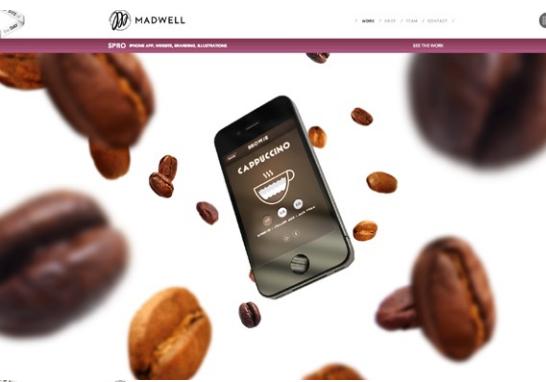

I am using Hensel Performing Light.

MADWELL

Design, strategy, and creative marketing. We are a young, dynamic advertising and marketing agency, but we're also an old school company. We believe in a simple recipe for success: be very good. Our commitment to building agency-client relationships empowers us to be tenacious, to be more paranoid, more resourceful, and adaptive. And this places us at the forefront of learning, marketing, cutting edge technologies, and data analysis. Our passion to bring creativity to life is naturally (and beautifully) as the big guys.

6. VIDEO BACKGROUND

HTML5 made it extremely easy to creatively use media on a website. The method that became particularly popular in 2013 is the video background - the trick of setting a large video as the background of a site.

A video background completely changes the visual appearance and adds a dynamic to the whole experience. While it might be inappropriate for e.g. a complex eCommerce website (as it might be distractive) it's great for sites that are focused on telling the story.

The goal of a video background is twofold: endorsement of the user engagement and creation of an unforgettable, emotional, message.

As you will certainly notice on many of our exemplary websites designers know what to do to use video background efficiently.

I assume this trend will be even stronger in 2014.

OUR COMPANY

Experts in the art of motion.

Each morning we wake up as individuals. Brush our teeth, comb our hair, eat a quick breakfast, put the finishing touches on a cup of coffee. We kiss our loved ones and we leave our homes. Drive to work.

On the way we begin to prepare for the day. Running.

Our Storytellers

Our greatest joys come from watching the evolution of creativity and work. Whiteboard is fueled by this daily evolution, experienced and driven by a small team of professionals. We are about the stories we share and the solutions we develop.

We empower visionaries to lead meaningful brands.

We live, work, and play in Chattanooga, TN.

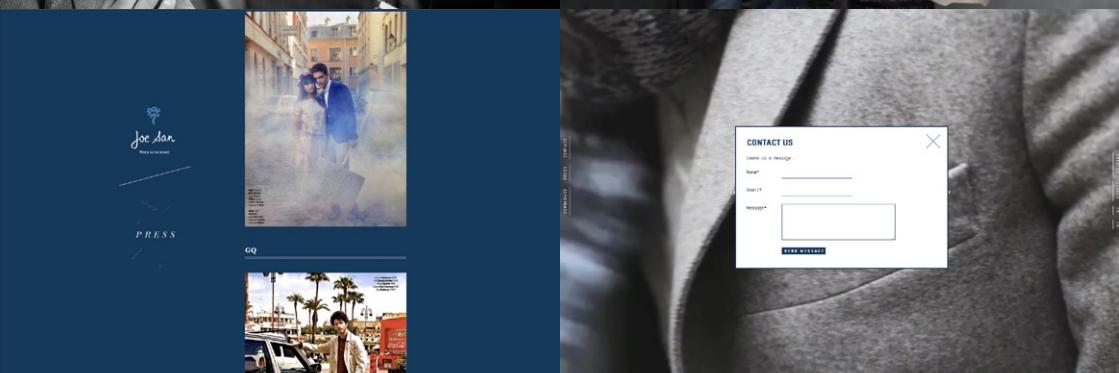

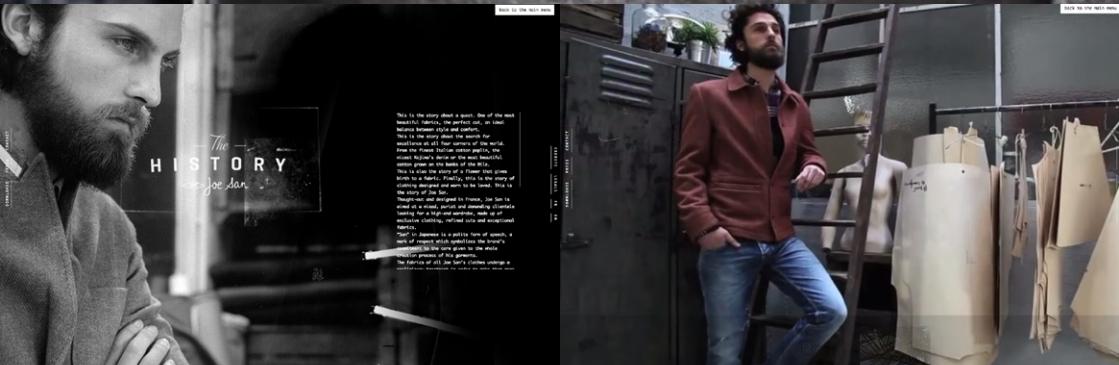

It's a society that largely defines where you live based on where you get paid, yet our approach to living out within the community is to live in it for the personality and the heart of it, and we are creating an opportunity for Chattanooga, Tennessee.

Recently, Chattanooga has been spotlighted for the number of its downtown and its community's attitude toward environmentalism and creativity. It has made the long, recorded crawl from being recognized as one of the worst cities in America, to being the toast of influential publications: GOOD Magazine, the New York Times, Outside Magazine, and Men's Journal.

We believe in Chattanooga and we are proud to call it home.

RESPONDING TO THE GENETIC THREAT

FIND OUT HOW

PRESERVING HUMANITY THROUGH TECHNOLOGY

As the world's leading full-spectrum genetic security and combat technology company, Trask is constantly working to uncover new ways to control the mounting X-gene Threat. We are proud to bring decades of experience, along with the latest in genetic engineering, as we continue to secure human freedom in every nation of the Earth. Our goal is to solve tomorrow's problems, today.

THE SENTINEL PROGRAM

In 1973, Trask Industries introduced the first Sentinal program, designed to combat the X-gene threat. Trask's groundbreaking research in AI, robotics and autonomous combat systems laid the foundation for the world's most capable anti-mutant defense system. The program has since expanded to include the development of the Sentinal line. These highly advanced combat robots are revolutionizing the field of nanotechnology and bioweapon breakthroughs, promising us a brighter future for the human race.

SENTINEL MARK 12TH GENERATION

As we celebrate five decades of advancement, we are also glad to announce the latest addition to the Sentinal line. Our efforts to full-time manufacture of the Mark X - our first combat-ready member of the Sentinal line. These highly advanced combat robots are revolutionizing the field of nanotechnology and bioweapon breakthroughs, promising us a brighter future for the human race.

TRASK INDUSTRIES: YOUR FUTURE

Join the new generation of Trask Industries. Our Science program and the Sentinal program are looking for individuals with a passion for science and a desire to make a difference in the world. If you're interested in a career in science, engineering, or technology, Trask Industries is the place for you.

ENSURING PEACE IN TROUBLING TIMES

As the world's leading full-spectrum genetic security and combat technology company, Trask is constantly working to uncover new ways to control the mounting X-gene Threat. We are proud to bring decades of experience, along with the latest in genetic engineering, as we continue to secure human freedom in every nation of the Earth. Our goal is to solve tomorrow's problems, today.

RESPONDING TO THE GENETIC THREAT

Our goal at Trask Industries is to be the one step ahead of mutation, through our research and groundbreaking science. Our employees hold themselves to the highest standards, because they know that the solutions we provide represent a moral imperative to ensure the future of humanity.

X-GENE IN HUMANS

Trask Industries scientists and engineers understand that gene mutations can occur frequently in all humans. However, these mutations are of varying magnitude and can manifest in both benign and dangerous forms that can threaten and threaten.

HIGH-AFFECT MUTATIONS

Low-Affect Mutations occur more frequently and improve frequently with influence of dangerous environmental factors such as UV radiation and electromagnetic waves.

WELCOME TO TRASK INDUSTRIES

Founded by Doctor Trask in 1957, Trask Industries was built on a philosophy of advancing human progress through technology and genetics. Our early research led to the revolutionary development of DNA Generation Program, which has since become the industry standard for genetic-based defense technology with our Mutant Detection Device and Sentinel program. We've always believed that with the right tools, we can ensure that any threat to human extinction is preventively neutralized. With Trask Industries, you can rest assured that the future of humanity is in safe hands.

DOCTOR TRASK

"The mutant threat is the defining issue of our time. We can choose to end the impending tide of suffering and death, or we can let it continue and let it wash away any remnants of our species."

— Doctor Doctor Trask, 1957

Even from his early years as a research assistant, Doctor Trask was always interested in the potential for evolution of humanity. Following in the footsteps of Mendel, Werner and Clark, Trask made it his goal to analyze the mechanics of human DNA. What he did not anticipate was the

What is a toolkit?

A toolkit provides a collection of assets and deliverables with a consistent style and look that can be used across multiple projects. It's a collection of assets that are used to create a consistent look and feel across a brand. A toolkit will often include brand identity, colors, typography, icons, and other graphic elements, but is less about specific assets and more about how they can be used to create a consistent look and feel.

At a young brand, spending any large sum on a design, marketing, or branding can be a waste of money. Instead, we believe that a consistent, well-thought-out visual language can be used to communicate a brand's values and mission without a costly full-blown identity. A toolkit can be used to create a consistent look and feel across multiple projects, and your users will see what's expected in, allowing you to create a visual identity for your products or business services, the consistency of your brand and its core values remain intact.

RÅVARENE

Ikke alle griser eigner seg for spekeskinke. Både stor, vekt og spesialkvalitet skal stemme. Det er bare de beste skinkene som blir langtidsmodnet.

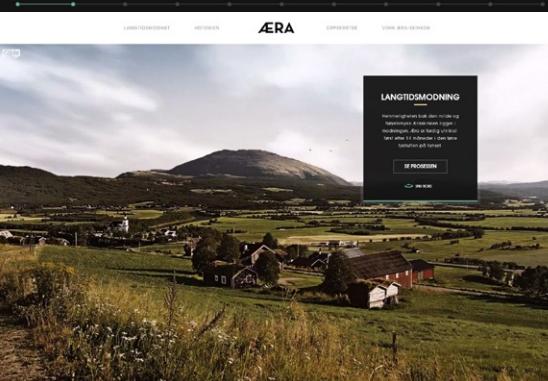

TYNSET

Med sitt lange tradisjonsblikk og tro til gresset har Tynset et godt tilbud til matmarkedet for friskt utvalg.

MASSERING

Før vi matene dikkene blir de nøytrale og gitt et vann. Etter masseringen blir de lagget med salt.

LANGTIDSMODNING

Hver eneste skinken har fått en langtidsmodning. Et spesielt prosesssteg som gir den en unik smak og konsistens. Etter 12 til 18 dager er den ferdig til å serveres.

7. NON-STANDARD NAVIGATION

Navigation is among the most important pieces of every single website. No content would be reachable without properly designed navigation that answers the questions “where am I?” and “where can I go from here?”.

We got used to either a top, left or right menu. They’re patterns used since the beginning of the web. Something changed in 2013 though. Designers started to play with the concept and come up with really creative solutions. Some of them are more usable (bottom navigation), some less (usage of a keyboard in navigating through a website), but all in all this is an interesting and popular trend that’s changing the way the Internet looks.

Take a look at the 15 best examples of non-standard navigation elements.

Middle Ear The middle ear converts sound from the air into vibrations that can be sent through fluid to the cochlea, in the inner ear.

Inner Ear In the inner ear, vibrations are turned into waves in fluid, moving tiny hair cells to create sound signals for your brain to detect.

The thickness is the separation of wood and results the work of the fabric and the attention is paid.

This concept reveals the nature of any workpiece to give its own definition and leave no mark. Each step from working the wood, the engineering process, to the final product, is a process of refinement combined with precision gesture control. The wood selection is rigorously made, by considering the different qualities and properties of the essences. The pieces are then measured, marked and finally held in a studio bench in the hands of France.

The wall range are also made from a high quality timber to ensure the thickness and quality of the items.

8. FIXED NAVIGATION

Setting a position fixed for the navigation bar isn't something new. It's doable since CSS2 introduced absolute, relative and fixed positions for html elements. However, in 2013 fixing the navigation has been rediscovered in a twofold way:

- responsive websites often use fixed navigation bars to improve the navigation capabilities on a small screen;
- fixed navigation bars with additional transitions add a dynamic feeling to the website.

The progress of technology (larger screens and bigger resolutions) has justified the fixed position of the navigation and honestly we're hoping it will become a standard in 2014.

Enjoy 15 great websites that are leading the fixed revolution!

1. UXPin Introducing: Twitter Bootstrap UI
"Twitter Bootstrap is like a UI framework for the web. It's a collection of CSS and JavaScript libraries that make it easy to build responsive, mobile-first designs. It's a great way to quickly prototype and build user interfaces, and it's used by many of the world's most popular websites. In this article, we'll introduce you to Twitter Bootstrap and show you how to use it to build your own responsive designs. We'll also discuss some of the key features of Twitter Bootstrap, such as its grid system, typography, and form controls. By the end of this article, you'll have a solid understanding of Twitter Bootstrap and how it can help you build better user interfaces for your website or application."

1. How did you get started in the User Experience Design field? And what would be your advice to newcomers to the field?

I started in the field before they put up all the signs.

I came from publishing, having worked as an editor, author, agent, publisher, and finally as a marketing manager. I then moved into the new field of publishing, which was the web. I think it's important for anyone to learn how to improve user interfaces but I feel it's the worst kind of any formal process or techniques or courses for becoming involved in the making of software.

The web democratized all that and gave me a chance to teach myself what I now call interaction design and to build interfaces of HTML and later CSS and scripting languages, etc.

After making my own websites, including a education website called Elocine that can from 1994 to 1998 I took a series of jobs in internet consulting companies, including finance, content manager, content strategist, information architect, and director of strategy. I ended up at Y Combinator as a mentor, managing, curating the first design community, this program was called Y Combinator at AOL, and I helped to organize and later became an investor in it. Now, today, I'm product director at a mobile productivity startup, Clickable.

Along the way, the emerging UX communities of practice, in particular for me the iMistake and the UX Summit, helped me find my way. My advice to newcomers is to find local organizations, attend their events, and get involved. There are many great organizations to learn, teach, and network with some of the best practitioners in the field.

2. What's the one thing that always works in User Experience Design?

There is no silver bullet, but it's a major discipline that deals clearly (less) theory wherever they

At the top, there is a navigation bar with links for 'More', 'Press', 'Reviews', 'Awards', 'Content', 'Follow us' (with icons for Facebook, Twitter, and YouTube), and a search bar. Below the navigation, there is a grid of images. The first row contains three images: 'EREZ DR. MAR CO' (with a 'Laured' photo box), 'Urbanscape (United Photohouse)', and 'Movie Party'. The second row contains three images: 'Autobahn - 1969 / Success 12.11' (with a 'Now!' photo box), 'e' (with a 'Urbanscape 300 producciones' photo box), and 'Audiencia (Orfeócaixa National de Lleida)' (with a 'Movie Party' photo box). The third row contains three images: 'Lata' (with a 'Lata' photo box), 'Pete in Film' (with a 'Pete in Film' photo box), and 'Agnieszka Holland' (with a 'Agnieszka Holland' photo box). Below this grid, there is a larger section for the film 'ZARDOZ'. It features a large black and white still from the movie showing a man in a dark suit. Below the still, the word 'FILOGRAPHY' is written in white. Underneath that, it says 'ZARDOZ (1974)' and 'LNUOLO (COMPANY STYLES 1974)'. A large, bold, dark box contains the text 'POMEROL 74 / SPIEL MAMES NON PER ZARDOZ' in white. Below this box, it says 'LA CONFUSION (1974)'. To the right of the still, there is a portrait of a man with a mustache, identified as 'MICHAEL IN PROZ PROZ' (with 'DIRECTOR', 'SCREENPLAY', 'CINEMATOGRAPHY', 'EDITOR', and 'PRODUCTION DESIGN' credits listed). At the bottom of this section, it says 'PROMO 1974'.

9-18 LIVING QUARTERS IS A SIGNIFICANT RUSSIAN PROJECT. IT IS THE FIRST BLOCK OF FLATS WITH A WELL-THOUGHT-OUT SUPPORTING INFRASTRUCTURE FOR CHILDREN AS WELL AS SMART FLATS, AKA TRANSFORMERS.

We had the task of proposing a name as unique as the living quarters themselves. The name 9-18 perfectly shows the concept of the living block as parents need to worry about what their children are doing from 9 till 18 thanks to the block infrastructure.

This naming solution also speaks to the architecture of the complex, as the buildings have either 9 or 18 floors.

9. METRO GRID

The Metro UI name has been officially buried because of a possible trademark dispute. Microsoft offered “Windows 8-style UI” instead but the design world somehow refused to use it (sounds like product placement, doesn’t it?).

It didn’t kill the trend though. Together with the pinterest-like grids, metro grid has become extremely popular in 2013 and certainly will remain popular in 2014. Designers started to love websites and web applications full of nicely crafted boxes. Appealing, simple aesthetics almost dominated the Internet.

Choosing 15 nice implementations of the “Metro Grid” wasn’t an easy task, but we managed to do it. Enjoy!

FAQ

Are you selling all the products directly?

No, all of our items are being sold through Amazon, The Fappy, Quirky and other Affiliate Programs.

How old is The Gadget Flow?

We launched our website August 15th 2012.

I want to feature and promote my items on The Gadget Flow.

If you'd like to, you can choose your package and submit them for a small fee, if we approve your items we'll publish them on "12 Best Items" page.

Where will you promote my items if I submit them?

We have many popular social media accounts with millions of thousands of followers and fans, therefore if your items get submitted to us, we will promote them on our website we will also promote them to you for maximum exposure.

Do you guys ship worldwide?

It depends, around 80% of our items come from the American Amazon therefore it's up to the seller if they ship worldwide but we also have hundreds of items from the European Amazon which is exactly the same situation (no tracking).

Your gadgets are truly awesome, can I become a creator?

10. MIX-AND-MATCH TYPOGRAPHY

2013 popularized a typography style that we previously knew rather from fancy t-shirts than websites - mixing and matching several styles of fonts. The complex art of choosing the right font is stretched to the extreme in this trend.

Neck-breaking typography aerobatics will certainly be with us in the near future. It's too powerful a brand-shaping tool to disappear.

Watch the 15 best examples of Mix-and-Match Typography and be amazed!

*In these times of ever changing technology and design

WHAT CUSTOMERS ARE SAYING...

THEPPR

Let us be the first to tell you that the Forefathers have truly done a masterpiece with their new design. From the great eye to the great use of color and the paper's texture, they sure have many steps up the game. This design program is sure to be a success and we are so proud to be a part of such a studio, but Forefathers delivered on my initial vision and improved on it.

WOLKE RUCK, OWNER & MODERATOR

GOOD FIGHT ENTERTAINMENT

We have worked with a lot of designers in the music industry, through our experience at various companies, and the creativity and professionalism we have seen at Forefathers is so vastly different from them. I have seen reputable ones, our projects have always been unique and stand out. The Forefathers team is a great group of people, who are always willing to go the extra mile. The art is top notch and the people are top notch. I am so happy to be a part of this studio, that the people working there are human to human to human. I am so happy about it. I am not a designer and am a web dev.

TIMMY TOMPKINS' → AWESOME ← FANTASY COMIC BOOK SUPERHERO ADVENTURE!

AN INTERACTIVE CHILDREN'S BOOK FOR THE IPAD

WHAT'S ALL THIS THEN?

WELL, THIS LITTLE STORY IS ABOUT TIMMY TOMPKINS. HE LOVES COMIC BOOKS, ESPECIALLY ONES WITH SUPERHEROES. ONE DAY HE WOULD LOVE TO BE A SUPERHERO, LIKE HIS DAD. HE LOVES PRIVATE BOOKS, THEN HE COULD SHOW THEM ALL. HIS DAD AT SCHOOL DONT TO MESS WITH HIM ONCE AND FOR ALL.

WHO DID ALL THIS?

THIS RAD APP WAS A COLLABORATIVE EFFORT BETWEEN AUSTRALIAN ILLUSTRATOR & DESIGNER THOMAS VITTE FITZPATRICK AND BOSTON PUBLISHER STORYPANDA. CHECK OUT THEIR RESPECTIVE SITES BELOW!

UPCOMING ART WALK Wednesday SEPT 4, 2013

THEME: Art Walk: Art Walk Map

Presented by Downtown Jacksonville, Inc. and held each month from 5 p.m. to 9 p.m. — art is everywhere! Jacksonville's first Wednesday Art Walk is a monthly event that features more than 40 galleries, museums, cultural venues, restaurants, bars and businesses, plus dozens of artists in Hemming Plaza, street performers and more.

Want to get involved? Please contact the Art Walk manager Lisa Carter at ArtWalk@jacksonvilleinc.org or call 904.354.0303, ext. 256.

THIS MONTH'S Don't Miss Venues

Every Art Walk is a family friendly event, but September's Art Walk is about the creative fury of our very salty members. So get outside, beat the shore and art gallery in general and family friendly venues this month to learn more about jet skiing, surfing and much more.

Headquarters of Hemming Plaza
Jacksonville's most active neighborhood, Hemming Plaza, is the place to be this month. Learn how to adjust a sailboat's sail, get a tattoo, or even get a tattoo by artist Morgan Cough Medders. Plus, get a free drink at the 2013 premiere of the official film of Park 2013, documentary about jet skiing, health and safety.

Southlight Gallery
Dive into performance time with Southlight Gallery as they lead you through a tour of their current exhibition. The tour will include a discussion of the artist's work and a Q&A.

Florida Theatre
Celebrate the 10th anniversary of the theater with a special performance of the musical Chicago. The show will be at 8 p.m. and will feature a special guest appearance by Paul Mitchell the School.

The Garage
Festival Hall Dog Circuit, the first professional dog agility competition in the country, will be held at The Garage on Sept. 7, presented by Paul Mitchell the School.

3D Studios Group, Inc.
Enter your jet or boat into the 3D Studios Group, Inc. Jet and Boat Show at 3 p.m.

ONCE UPON A TIME

In a galaxy not so far, far away, a man named Tim Constatine found that he had a desire to eat a meal that was not only delicious, but was strong with the taste he had, and the only place he could find it was when he was going to eat at a food truck, and the wicked palate was there.

They may not see the typical choice to eat a food truck, with backgrounds ranging from knowledge to transvestite, but Tim Constatine was a man with a desire to eat a meal that was strong with the taste he had, and the only place he could find it was when he was going to eat at a food truck, and the wicked palate was there.

They're dedicated to serving high quality food that is sure to please even the pickiest of eaters. They're not afraid to use some meat, meat, meat. It's a little bit naughty, a little bit nice, and has a little heat of it's own.

GOOD TIMES

TIMES SQUARES
One of the first to give us the chance to prove our design skills was a client from the New York City area. And we're so grateful for that opportunity. The client had a desire to create a series of small, square, and colorful boxes for their products. They wanted something whimsical, yet functional.

Starting with hand-embroidered gift cards from a local sewing company, we set our minds to work. We created a series of 12 boxes, each with a different theme. The boxes were a hit with the client, and added a little bit of fun to their packaging. And, they could be well received as a gift or a keepsake. 11. CLARITY AND SIMPLICITY

Clarity and Simplicity are always in fashion. In 2013 however this became a major trend. Connected to the “content centric” approach and the flat design, the clarity and simplicity of an interface become a complete, powerful thing.

It's design at its best. Thoughtful, efficient and...simple.

Enjoy!

Hi there!

My name is Haraldur Thorleifsson. But you can call me Halli.
I am a Creative Director and designer of things that appear on screens.

I can name-drop if you want. I can tell you that I've worked for companies like Google, The Economist, Motorola, Asics, TiVo, Microsoft, YouTube and Square. And if you twist my arm I can also tell you about some awards I've won; Webbys, FWA, Awwwards - the usual suspects. But enough about me, how have you been?

Made, Right Here.

100% Freelance

From a 1960's house in the back-streets of Wellington, New Zealand I work with a range of clients, agencies & collaborators from around the globe. With over 12 years industry experience, I have held both web design, web development and graphic design positions at agencies in New Zealand & London.

Although we believe in strong, direct, and honest communication, we also value a more laid back, less formal, approach.

Because the studio offers individual and limited edition work, we do not accept regular clients.

We can unfortunately take on projects by or small, and tight, teams, but we do not offer a traditional client service.

Griff is always on the lookout for new clients or colleagues.

WINDOWS OF NEW YORK

The Windows of New York project is a weekly illustrated list for an obsession that has increasingly grown in the new century put me in this town. A project of countless hours of research through the city streets, it is a collection of windows that somehow have caught my attention out from the never ending bustle of the city.

This project is part an effort to rechristen and put a cool challenge to never stop looking up.

I am a Graphic Designer living in New York City. I'm into all kinds of visual things, sharing good stuff with great people, and apparently, staring creepily at windows.

HARRY'S WAS BUILT OUT OF RESPECT

For quality craftsmanship, simple design, modern convenience and most importantly for guys who know they shouldn't have to apologize for a good shave.

EVOLVED MODEL

We design our razors to be the best razors for shaving, combination razors and only the finest materials. By selling directly to you online, we're able to shave the costs and offer a great shave at a price accessible to every Tom, Dick and Harry, are you the Harry?

CONSIDERED ALTERNATIVE

For the most of guys, we've long had a shave alternative: the straight razor. It's a market niche that demands pure intelligence, and we say, sharp razors and dangerous price tags. We know there had to be a better way, so we created Harry's to return to the essential a good shave.

at a price.

QUALITY CONSTRUCTION

We spent a year working with a leading design firm to create a product that is made by German engineers who design everything from Formula 1 to high end watches. Our handle was designed to blend fluidity and motion ergonomics. Our straight razors comes from the same chemists who make cosmetics for high end brands. The result is a series of shaving products made with respect for the tradition of a good, clean shave.

GIVE A SHAVE

At Harry's we give a shave about making guys look and feel great, including those who might need a hand. Thus, for every product you buy, a shave or dollar equivalent is given to an organization that does the same.

WHAT DO YOU GIVE A SHAVE ABOUT?

HARRY'S

We Give A Shave

We give a lot about what we do. You could say that we give a shave about the details of making men. Yet, it's actually a lot bigger than that. We are passionate about helping anyone find and forgive, including those who might need a hand.

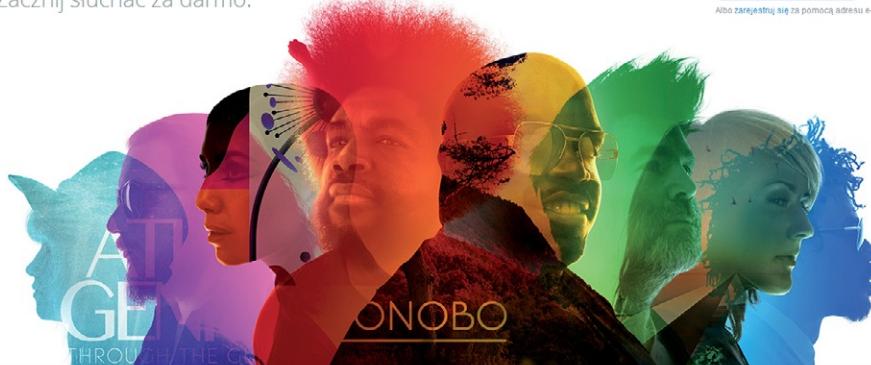

HARRY'S + THE MISSION CONTINUES

As our first partner, we recently proudly gave a shave to The Mission Continues. The Mission Continues engages veterans of every war to apply the skills they learned in the military toward helping others. Through their service and the skills they learned in the military, they are able to give some sort of purpose to the lives of those who served them. Perhaps, often used to feel like an afterthought, part of a larger institution, or a ceremonial role of service. We can't imagine a more fitting group of veterans than the veterans with The Mission Continues.

ABOUT ROSEBUD

What are you doing now?

If I could, I'd be in a studio somewhere. So, I will say any type of art of any kind. Well, cause the last few years I've been doing a lot of painting. I've been painting portraits, I've been painting still life, I've been painting landscapes, I've been painting interiors, I've been painting on canvas, I've been painting in the paper industry, if you want.

What's the best thing about being an artist? I'm really just pure joy.

Where to for the future?

A photograph of a woman with short, curly hair, wearing a patterned top and jeans, standing behind a table. The table is covered with a white cloth and is filled with various items, including what look like dried flowers, small plants, and possibly some small sculptures or art pieces. In the background, there are shelves with more items and some text on the wall, suggesting a shop or exhibition space.

DESIGNING TIME

The approach to design is to create a balance between the technical and the aesthetic. We believe that the best designs are those that are both functional and beautiful. We are inspired by the art of watchmaking and the craftsmanship of industrial and avionic instruments. The result is a collection of watches that are both functional and beautiful, with a focus on the details that make them unique.

The AARK Collective is a team of designers and engineers who are passionate about creating high-quality, functional, and beautiful watches. We believe that the best designs are those that are both functional and beautiful, with a focus on the details that make them unique.

12. COOKIES WARNINGS

The European Union gave designers a huge headache in 2013. Cookie warnings are now obligatory for all European websites. That's an unwanted trend that will certainly be very popular in the next couple of years.

Nothing we can do about it apart from...getting used to it.

Conclusion

2013 is the year of smart, aesthetic and simple design. 2014 will be no different. Responsive web design will be even more powerful. Flat Design will be even more popular (since the arrival of iOS7). The clarity and simplicity of content-centric websites will be all over the place.

Who knows, maybe this is the golden age of the Internet. The design of 2013 is mature, focused on its purpose and certainly rewarding for the eyes of users.

The only thing that can destroy 2014 for all of us is the growing popularity of transitional interfaces. While CSS transitions are great and in the hands of talented designers can add much desired interactivity to the UI, it's easy to overdose them.

Everything in the design is meant to serve its general purpose. Don't get caught in the trap of unnecessary movement in the interface and the design will be fine.

2014 - can't wait to see what it'll bring to the world of web design.
